A note from the editor

Welcome to the 2014-15 autumn season of the enquirer. Sorry that should say winter season. In the same way that the mountains outside SHOULD be covered in white stuff instead of looking slightly green.

Throughout the winter I often get asked what Courchevel is like in the summer. To which I will reply with several green and warm metaphors. Surprisingly you can also ask that same question for anyone who has been in resort since November, when I was walking around in the evening in a t-shirt.

So what's new this year? (or stuff you could easily find out just by walking around the resort)

In 1850 the art galleries have been playing musical chairs. The one in the ISBA has moved next door and been replaced with a Chanel shop. The gallery under the Suites de Potinere has moved to the other side of the garage and been replaced by a ski shop specializing skis which cost more than some cars.

The refuge bar was finally sold and has turned into the self described chic Exodus oyster and champagne bistro.

Bank Popularie has moved from opposite the forum to where the old butchers used to be, next to SPAR. Two new butchers have appeared, one where the Coyote night club used to be (owned by Tournier) and the other which is from Albertville just past the fire station. Bar Joe has moved from the basement to the ground floor. James has given up being paid a small fortune to kiss (and possibly wipe) rich Russian holidaymakers arse to serve poor saisonaires beer in the Kudeta bar.

Oh and someone has built a huge gawdy advertisement clad pyramid in the middle of town.

In 1650 the bar in the bubble bar has been refurbished and moved several feet back making the place slightly better, if only they could do something about the drains?

Down in Le Praz the new FORET chair lift that replaces the old glass fibre eggs is now open and a good way to get over to La Tania. In the resort Dabellos has reopened after being closed last year.

THE SURGEON GENERAL WARNS

Doing ski seasons can be highly addictive, can seriously damage your sanity, result in a general lack of sleep, makes your arse bigger, increase the chances of getting a blow job in the skidoo hut outside Kudeta and waking up next to a complete stranger.

All stories contained within are purely fictional and shouldn't be taken seriously.

Anyone found taking anything too seriously should be held down, given alcohol and violated with the handle of a ski pole.
